

BRAINSTORMS
With Ferrin Cox

Twice Monday we found Elba streets closed temporarily. This is a mild irritant to any of us drivers accustomed to traveling a certain route. However in both cases, it was in the name of community progress and this we wholeheartedly endorse. We will drive around another way for a few days, 'cause it is a small price for us "just folks" to pay for a growing community.

Our editor received a message in the mail this week from Walter Cox. Wait, out a little cartoon strip from one of his trade magazines that started out telling our story on the benefits of advertising in a perfect manner. However, the end result was the advertising salesman being chased out of the office by the other salesmen. That's what happened to us. Before getting to the last strip of the story, we felt it had finally gotten the solid message across to Walt and would get an ad from him every week, but alas, we are a little afraid to go by this week!

Early this week we heard a traveling sales salesman complaining strongly about inflation and especially travel expenses (gas). He noted it had cost him $16 to travel his team over. We were really pleased for him until we started to leave the message about the time he left and saw him climb into the biggest, shiniest Cadillac made this year. That kind of problem we just don't relate to at all.

Governor James apparently is still hoping for a new constitution for Alabama. However "SOURCE" sources indicate the chances are remote at this time. We have always thought that the people would be more than willing to pay for him until we started to leave the message about the time he left and saw him climb into the biggest, shiniest Cadillac made this year. That kind of problem we just don't relate to at all.

The face of Elba is changing from day to day. If you don't believe this, just look around at the new streets, new homes, new Dorsey parts building, new Kleiners building, lot work, new business, new church buildings, new signs down of the old house across from the Piggy Wiggly, new church on Curtis cut-off road (166) etc. There is also a new business in town and doing great business! The House of Hobbes is open next to the Hickory Pit and selling hobby supplies for children nine to ninety. Drop by and chat with Faye or Ray Kyle.

Our editor tried some medicine for fishing fever Sunday with disappointing results. After our ten-year-old and I fished in our neighborhood, we decided to go to our favorite fishing holes and added further insult to our pride. About five miles North of Defuniak Springs, Florida, we had a little problem with one of those rich retired yankies spending the winter in Florida. It seemed there is no physical way to get one of these men and most can't even do the same air space with the front of his nice pretty car! It wasn't so bad cause Mr. and Mrs. Smith are great people, but we both waited over an hour for a state trooper that had to come from the bottom tip of Florida. It seems however, even he was too busy to do over with us. We picked up pieces of our motor, threw them back into the boat sitting crazily on the trailer and made it home without further problems. Hesdy said we would still have all that fishing equipment if we had been in church where we belonged!

Mayor Bob Folsom presented the school folks and school plan man, Luther Hill, with the introduction that their plan for the best school ever, was the best school ever. The plan for the new high school is just what Elba needs. I agree with him on this; the proposal goes a lot of detail planning and concern for the future and not just next year. Now the problem is to find a million dollars!

The news reports of the Elba City Council meeting Tuesday night will leave the impression that there are a lot of different opinions on operation of the recreation program in Elba. The council member from the truth and justice cult is a tremendous communication guru! This type thing was the subject of the Rotary Club speaker ye ole editor sponsored Monday -- when peoples' thoughts and messages are not properly transmitted. Before the meeting, Recreation Director Dennis Smith told this writer he was going to present his plan to the council for permission to proceed with them and to buy needed materials, WITH DADS AND QUOTES, and buying from the lowest price on quality materials. Well the council motion was for the same thing -- Mayor Folsom was "demanding this be done and in the end the motion everyone agreed on said that was the way it would be... so what was the problem for over an hour of heated debate? Poor communications are the only answer.

Mrs. Darnell

Miss Cynthia Stokes & Mr. Conie Mac

Darnell United In Holy Matrimony

Miss Cynthia Stokes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jackson William Stokes and Conie Mae Darnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Reese Darnell of Elba, were united in holy matrimony at three o'clock in the afternoon on Saturday, March 10, at the Elba United Methodist Church in a ceremony performed by Dr. Ed Mathison.

To mark the wedding hour, Thomas Tatton lit the church candles and lit the altar candle. While the guests assembled, Mrs. Lloyd Thompson McMurtry of Huntsville sang several songs, accompanying herself on the piano.

The central feature of the church decorations was a pair of brass altar vases which were placed tall pedestal on either side of the altar. They were filled with deep pink roses, pink and white dogwood, white rosebuds, daisies and eucalyptus leaves. On the rail behind the communion rail was an arrangement of large, green aspidistra leaves from which rose a single white rose. The chancel floor was entered with a tiered candelabrum holding seventeen white candles flanked by arrangements of candles and greenery similar to those on the communion rail.

The Rev. Jeffrey Lee Darnell of Nashville, violinist, Mrs. Darnell, vocalist, and Mrs. Frank Hartman, pianist, presented a repertoire of music for their brother's wedding. Their renditions included " Savior Like A Shepherd Lead Us," "Sweet By and Sweet," They were accompanied by Mrs. Kenneth Baker of the organ who also played "Jesus, Joy of Man's Desiring," as the processional ended. "Joyful, Joyful, We Adore Thee" as the recessional. During the prayer, the Rev. Gary Brown, the groom's brother-in-law, said "I do." My Tribut, "Mrs. Frank Hartman, sister of the groom, gave a recitation, "Make Me an Instrument of Thy Peace."

The bride, given in marriage, was wearing a white wedding gown of ivory organza. The alencon and Venetian lace of the bodice formed a low round-neckline, which was outlined with a thin border. The illusion lace, filled in a high Victorian collar, Satin braid outlined the cap sleeves and creased the shoulders. At the bottom of the full skirt, lace was lavishly applied on the skirt and chapel train. The veil of silk illusion which was held in place by a scalloped satin border, had a double row of seed pearls was caught to a Juliet cap of lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of roses, dogwood and apple blossoms in shades of azalea pink and white with Lily of the Valley.

Mr. Darnell of Elba, sister-in-law of the groom, and Mrs. Frank Harris of Nashville, sister of the bride, served a reception for the bride as Matron of Honor was Mrs. Mark Vaughan of Montgomery. Other attendees were Mrs. Dennis Lawford and Mrs. J. Smoker, sisters of the bride, and Misses Lloyd and Lucy, the bride's sisters.

The round punch table was covered with a green skirt and a white linen cloth. A large crystal chandelier and a white floral arrangement in a vase were the centerpieces.

Misses Linda Cox and Mrs. Lloyd, Thompson McMurtry of Huntsville, sang several songs, accompanying herself on the piano.

Later in the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Conie Mac Darnell left for a wedding trip to Elba. Mr. Darnell attended his brother's wedding party at a rehearsal dinner on Friday evening, March 9.

Hors d'oeuvres were served from a white leathered tray with a soft bow and length cape. Mrs. Darnell wore a slate blue Jersey with long sleeves and a draped over-bodice which ended in a pointed waistline.

TSU Dothan To Offer New Computer Course

In recognition of the need for educational support to keep the Wiregrass abreast of the rapid technological advances being made in the small computer field, Troy State University-Dothan will offer CPE 246, the first computer field. The State University CIS 246 - Minicomputers and Microcomputers during the forthcoming spring quarter.

The objective of the course is to provide the latest information concerning the state of the art in small computers, including the basic structure and operation of the mini-microcomputer, peripheral devices, microprocessor instruction sets and addressing schemes, and a brief coverage of applications of these computers, particularly in the business world. In addition, the most popular programming languages, small computers, BASIC, will be taught during the course.

According to Bruce Wood,

Director of Data Processing at TSU-Dothan, the school will be circling around the school's recently acquired TRS-80 microcomputer system, which will be available for "hands-on" use by the students.

Many suggestions about the proper handling of equipment and facilities may fall on deaf ears, but these may be worth noting:

If you open it, close it.

If you turn it on, turn it off.

If you unlock it, lock it.

If you break it, repair it.

If you borrow it, return it.

If you use it, don't abuse it.

If you make a mess, clean it up.

If you move it, put it back.

If you don't know how it works, leave it alone.

If it belongs to someone else and you want to use it, get permission.

It doesn't concern you, leave it alone.

BABIES BEFORE BIRTH

New techniques can help detect abnormalities before a baby is born, but infant mortality rates are still above those of the United States.

The TSU-Dothan microcomputer system is an expanded business-oriented version that contains 32,000 bytes (characters) of main memory, two disk drives that provide approximately 180,000 bytes of auxiliary memory, a display console with keyboard for input and editing functions, and a printer with the capability to print 100 characters per second.

The TRS-80 system utilizes a unique programming language in an interactive (conversational) fashion, enabling the programmer to establish a dialogue with the machine during processing.

In addition to developing understanding of the mini-microcomputer concepts through the lecture phase of the course, each student will be able to achieve a level of proficiency in BASIC that will enable the individual to write meaningful business-oriented programs.

The program in BASIC during the course makes of this an insurmountable material that coats the air sacs and keeps them from collapsing when air is exhaled - there are critical problems.

The presence of too much carbon dioxide in the blood is a sign of distress.

As the fetus grows, the fetal lungs are maturing properly by examining materials in fluid taken by needle from the mother's womb. The production of a substance called lecithin increases dramatically in the ninth month of gestation. Unless this very popular interactive language has been taught for credit in this area, said Wood.

Several field trips are being planned that will enable students to see actual business applications of the TRS-80 system, as well as other personal microcomputers and microcomputers that have been implemented in the local community.

Black & Gold Game Set For Friday

At 1:30

I watched football practice Monday and was surprised at the size of our team -- both in numbers and individual size! There were around 55 boys out at the practice, and the coaches had them all working hard. It appears we've got some "peers" in the lineups this season, several boys tipping the scales over 200 pounds. If the big guys will stay and work hard, I'm sure Coach Tyson and Coach Hudson will make 'em tougher and meaner.

The annual Black and Gold game is set for Friday at 1:30, and with all our top notch runners, it should be quite a show.

I was told last week that the skating rink was built with Federal funds and it didn't cost the city a dime. That's good. Maybe they can get civic clubs to combine their efforts and build a new tennis courts for the community. I'm sure all the people want some tennis courts and would pitch in a few pennies to help have 'em built.

The softball season is almost ready to get started, and I keep hearing of more and more teams that will enter the Men's League. At last count there were around 16 teams in the League, and somewhere around 4 - 6 teams in the Women's League. It's going to be a big summer of softball, and I urge everybody to get involved.

Plans are being made for a super weekend of sports this summer in Elba, and it should be something else. Right now, we're planning a 15-team men's tournament, a 12-team women's tournament, and a Pea River Canoe Race. Last year, we made a lot of money for the Recreation Department with the softball tournament, and this year we hope we'll make even more.

The Boys' Basketball League ended its season last week and everything went smoothly. All four teams were competitive and the boys did a good job. The coaches were strictly volunteers and they did a good job. The Recreation Director, Dennis Smith, was there every Saturday morning and refereed all the games. The program was a success, and "Little Boys" basketball is here to stay!

The N.C.A.A. tourney only has four teams left and I don't have any preference on who wins it. I was pulling for Notre Dame to get beat, and now that they have I don't care who wins. However, I'm picking Michigan State to win the national title and Indiana State to finish second.

Till later....

Softball Meetings Set For April 2 & 3

Recreation Director Dennis Smith announced this week that softball organizational meetings will be held Monday and Tuesday, April 2 and 3, 7:00 p.m. at the Recreation Center.

Anyone interested in entering a team in the Men's Softball League must be present on Monday, April 2, at the meeting.

will run basic running plays and basic pass patterns. We will try to do a good job on fundamentals. The game will be no kicking in the game.

Turning to spring training, Coach Wood stated, "I feel pretty good. Our attitude is good and I think it is a carry over from our success last year. The young boys are enthusiastic and the older boys are working hard. We haven't had the leadership that we'll need, but I expect our senior players to come through."

"We had a good scrimmage on the Friday before the A.E.A. break," said Wood. "We'll have to admit we haven't gotten as much done as I'd hoped. We added to the game plan.

"It will be a basic game," added Wood, "and both teams will run basic things on offense and defense the early part of this week, but we're still doing a lot of work on the basic fundamentals of football.

We'll still do some work on team offense and defense, but we won't move anyone around until then. We've found everyone a position and won't change unless we have to."

"We have been lucky this spring in that we've had no bad injuries," said Wood. David Dorsey missed a couple of days with a hurt arm, but that's the only injury we've had. We're looking forward to the spring game and are hoping to show what we've learned."

Tiger quarterback Russell Kelley hands off during a recent practice session as the Elba gridlers prepare for Friday's Black & Gold game.

CONTOUR FARMING STILL THE BEST WAY

Following heavy rains the effects of contour farming is evident. Water has channeled small washes down the hill through each terrace, if they can be found, and some of washes have accumulated at the bottom of the hill. However, many future need of this valuable resource-topsoil, in view of effects of contour farming, say they can not follow the contour, which is the first and most important consideration.

Land conservation practices that are recommended to protect the soil, Technology has provided four, six, and in some areas, eight row equipment. However, it is the landowner who has heard the contour, particularly described as follows: "contouring at the Northwest corner of the NW 1/4 of SE 1/4 of Section 6, Township 5 North, Range 19 East, in Elba, Alabama, and you do it well, you are man who does it very successfully."

Martin Moates follows the contour with all his tillage operations. Most of his fields have been contour farmed, so most of the short row, however, he still has to plan the best row pattern for his land. He feels this little extra work is worth the trouble, fertilizers, and other production he is saving.

Kenneth and Karl Sanders, Roeter Community, plan their crop patterns so that contour farmed, so most farmers have proven that contour farming can be successfully used. A well-planned row pattern can save time and labor, so far as cost per acre per year on most fields in Coffee County, even where terraces already exist, A savings of this kind makes contour farming one of the most important conservation practices.

Many times farmers confuse contour farming with contour terracing exactly. The best row pattern, protection standpoint and for efficiency may roll the terrace in places. This is fine as long as the variance away from the terrace is not excessive. Study your photo and lay out the best pattern for your fields. Just as irrigation lines and allotment lines can be planned on a photo, so can our row patterns.

Health Dept. Feels Money Crunch

Due to the shortage of funds available to balance the health department's budget, certain following services will be either cut back or eliminated in the future. This will be due to appropriate personnel laid off to balance the budget for this year.

1. The immunization clinics, which last year gave over 11,600 shots to citizens of Coffee County, will be cut from eight clinics a month to two clinics a month, with one clinic in Elba and one clinic in Elba. Individuals receiving services will be given first-serve basis. This will be a reduction from the 11,600 given, to approximately 2,000 per year.

2. Maternal and child services will be discontinued.

3. Child Health Clinic and services will be discontinued.

4. The possible discontinuing of birth verification, death verification and death records. Approximately 3,000 of these records are sent to the state requesting birth verification cards will be given a form to submit to Montgomery, at the cost of $3.00 per issuance. Certified birth and death records.

5. The reduction of Environmental Protection services by 50 percent. In discussing this cutback with the State Environmental Supervisor, said Health Services Administrator, Kenneth Ball, "I have been informed that the establishment of environmental health inspection and adequate sanitation levels of living establishments in Coffee County. Special restricted schedules will be set up for septic tank inspections, new construction approvals, subdivisions, water sampling, and other environmental services."

Ball further stated, "In discussing this cutback with the State Environmental Supervisor, said Health Services Administrator, Kenneth Ball, "I have been informed that the establishment of environmental health inspection and adequate sanitation levels of living establishments in Coffee County. Special restricted schedules will be set up for septic tank inspections, new construction approvals, subdivisions, water sampling, and other environmental services."

In the aided expense, and after no one had an answer, the Commission delayed any action on Donaldson's request for several weeks last month, but finally agreed to a settlement after meeting with various county and city officials. The local commissioners stated that the state had disapproved the payment, and they would not accept it.

The $12,000 payment was made to Donaldson by the county after he found Tax Assessor took legal action to regain alleged losses he incurred during his tenure. Donaldson stated he was forced to hire help and work counter-reappraisal, and that the added work caused him serious financial problems.

The first order of business was to open proposals for the landfill site. In 1967, the State Commission ordered to lease land in Elba for the issuance of driver's license. It was earlier reported the county received no bid for the proposed site, and there is no such jail present.

County Attorney Gilmer Grant, Rex Boutwell, Jack Hornsby, Don Smith, and Probate Judge James L. Sawyer addressed the Commission and stated, "We are holding for a hearing on pending lawsuit. In 1967 the Commission was ordered to lease land in Elba for the issuance of driver's license. It was earlier reported the county received no bid for the proposed site, and there is no such jail present.

The law states you shall construct a jail in the Enterprise division," said McIlwain. "And you have the power to impose a tax to pay for its construction." The Commission also stated that the only bid received for the purchase of two dump trucks.

County Commissioner Melvin McIlwain and Danny Bradish met with the Commission and asked for an expense allowance.

"We cover this entire county," said McIlwain, "and we would like to ask if you could furnish us with a monthly allowance. We are on call 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. The cost of gas is $1.50 per mile and only 15 cents per mile for gas. We're asking for $100 each, per month, for expenses. We think it is a fair amount."
